Every citizen of India is well aware that 15th August is the day when India got its independence from British rule to become a free country. The day is celebrated all over in unity with great patriotism. BVIMR always takes a lead in celebrating festivals of national importance with its beneficiaries. This year too, it celebrated the Independence Day with great enthusiasm and respect at BVIMR campus in New Delhi.

This year, the event was called AZADI'70, and had a theme of yaad karo kurbani, signifying the sacrifices made by every citizen of India at the time of Independence.

The event started off with 3 competitions, named as; poster making, debate and documentary, wherein students had shown their talent by taking active participation.

As per the stipulated day, date and time, amidst joyous bustling of students, there was a convergence in the amphi theatre and ground floor lab of the Institute. Event Coordinator; Dr. Ashima Bhatnagar, along with students' coordinator, welcomed the enthusiastic students, and explained the rules and regulations with strategies and judging criteria of each event.

Later, Hon'ble Director Sir, Dr. Vikas Nath, addressed the students, by expressing his views on Freedom. Initially, he reflected upon the efforts and struggle made by our ancestors at the time of independence, and how freedom carries different meaning to different individuals? He further motivated the participants by his thoughts, that this day is synonymous with triumph, victory, success and failure too. But, it is all about learning from failures that is utmost important, which subsequently becomes a springboard to triumphs.
